

You can't go back and change
what happened, but you can begin again as you move forward.

You can start doing what matters
and stop doing what you hate.

You can end a bad habit
and pick up a good one.

You can dream. You can wonder.

You can ask God to lead you down
the paths he wants you to take.

The future is here.

What are you waiting for?